At The Change of Seasons, Where's Your Trailer?

With the end of the warmer weather and winter just around the corner, people are moving their grownup "toys" that require trailers. If you're looking to store your summer toys or getting your winter fun ready, the City's Zoning Enforcement Office would like to remind residents there are some rules about their trailers that are often forgotten during these busy times.

Storage of Recreation Vehicles, which includes any kind of trailers, including campers, boats, trailers with either jet skis or snow machines, any motorized recreational vehicle, and storage box-type trailers (does not include motorcycles unless on a trailer) need to be stored in specific areas on your property. Places where these items may be stored are in a carport, enclosed building, or rear yard area and shall not be located within 10 feet of any lot line. (See the City Zoning Ordinance § 235-41 \(L\) Storage of Recreational Vehicles.)

For those residents having properties located on the shore, the area between the road and your home is considered your front. We understand that you do not want to hinder or damage the view of the lake for anyone, but please remember trailers of any type and recreational vehicles are not allowed in the front yard or side yards, including the driveway area in front of the house.

There have been a number of complaints to the City about placement of trailers and recreational vehicles. Please be considerate of your neighbors and the public, and responsibly store trailers and recreational vehicles where they should be. Failure to comply with the Zoning Ordinance can lead to fines or court action.

From the vaulted heights of New England's highest peak, author Dan Szczesny spent a year exploring the very heart of the White Mountains. But Mt. Washington—home of the world's worst weather—is more than just a Rock Pile, it's the cultural and natural soul of climbers and tourists from around the world. From car races to bird watching, from bikes to motorcycles, from the railroad to the stars to a centuries-old observatory, Mt. Washington speaks to the adventurer in all of us. In this presentation, Dan will discuss his book, The White Mountain, and explore the culture, characters, and color of this remarkable place.

On July 31st President Donald Trump signed the "Legion Act" which changed eligibility for membership in the American Legion from wartime service to any service with a good conduct discharge or general under honorable conditions performed after December 7, 1941.

Noting that over 1,600 service members died between declared wars and conflicts, the American Legion challenged Congress to change the dates of eligibility for membership.

At our National Convention in Indianapolis from August 23-30th, the membership not only voted for this inclusion of potential members, but voted to change the American Legion Auxiliary's charter to include spouses of female veterans into their organization.

For further information locally, contact the Laconia post at 524-9728, or visit them at 849 North Main Street. You can also check with your local American Legion post in most communities.

Harvest Box at Laconia Library

Are you a gardener with surplus produce? You can now share your bounty with fellow community members through the Harvest Box at the library!

Bring your fruits and veggies (good quality only, please!) to the Library and place them in the Harvest Box on the table just inside the main entrance. Anyone who needs them can take them, free! This program grew out of a grant project conducted by the Lakes Region Partnership for Public Health, with the focus on improved nutrition for families with young children. Gilford Library has had a box for several years, which has been very well supported by the community. We think Laconia can do it too!

Next year, we'll remind you to plant an extra row for your neighbors. In the meantime, people are loving the produce, and asking when more will arrive. For more information, call Karen at 528-8560.

Looking forward to an over-flowing Harvest Box!

Carter Mountain Band Concert

The First United Methodist Church of Gilford is pleased to present The Carter Mountain Brass Band performing their Fall concert entitled "Brass Ensemble Music through the Ages" on Saturday, Oct. 5th at 7pm. The concert program includes music from a wide variety of genres and time periods - Gershwin, the Beatles, movie music, the Renaissance, big band, Beethoven, and others. Joining the Brass Band will be The Hallelujah Bells, the church's handbell choir, and Phil Breton, church organist.

The Carter Mountain Brass Band is modeled after both American and British brass bands of the 19th century. Brass bands became very popular in the late 19th century as mass production made instruments widely available and affordable. They could be found in almost any town or in factories that sponsored bands as a recreational outlet for their skilled workers.

The Band is comprised of 30 members who play brass or percussion instruments. These members come from all walks of life. Although skilled musicians, they are not professionals in the sense that they make their living making music; rather, they have joined together for the sheer love of playing brass music at a high level. Named for Carter Mountain in New Hampton, NH, this band reflects the rich heritage of brass music from the 16th century through the 19th century and into the present day's modern and popular music.

Suggested donation for this event is $8 and students under 18, free. Proceeds will benefit the missions and ministries of the church. The church is located at 18 Wesley Way (off Rt. 11A near the 3/11 bypass) in Gilford. Phone: 524-3289.

Carter Mountain is a member of the Northern New England Brass Association, a group of musical ensembles that joined to form a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization to educate and entertain the public by the performance of brass band music throughout northern New England.

Rich Araldi Musical Event, October 7th

When asked, "What would the world be without music?" Rich Araldi, replies, "I don't even want to think about it. I feel a responsibility to create music that is uplifting, encouraging, hopeful and responsible and helps us connect with the important things in our lives."

Everyone is invited to join us Monday, Oct. 7 at 6:30 p.m. in Taylor Community's Woodside Building to hear Rich play great songs of the 20th century on the vibraphone.

He will also intersperse stories, trivia and facts to accompany the music. It's sure to be a great evening!

HEATHER PIERSON JAZZ TRIO

Heather Pierson - piano, vocals | Shawn Nadeau - bass | Craig Bryan - drums

Heather Pierson Jazz Trio in Concert at Taylor, Sept. 30th

Based in New Hampshire's Mount Washington Valley, Heather Pierson is a pianist, singer/songwriter, known for her bell tone vocals and equal parts New Orleans-Oscar-Brubeck jazz piano leanings.

Together with Shawn Nadeau (bass, harmony, vocals) and Craig Bryan (drums), they are the Heather Pierson Jazz Trio.

Everyone is invited to enjoy an evening of Heather's original music, jazz and blues standards and unique reworkings of familiar American tunes, Monday, Sept. 30 at 7 p.m. in Taylor Community's Woodside Building.

New Hampshire Children Were Poisoned by Lead in 2017

Childhood Lead Poisoning in New Hampshire:

What Our Community Members Need to Know

Thursday, September 26th, 2019

A luncheon education session sponsored by Partnership for Public Health

10:15am to 11:45am – Lunch

Lakes Region Community College-Academic Commons

379 Belmont Rd, Laconia, NH

Every year, hundreds of children in New Hampshire are poisoned by lead and experience blood lead levels known to impair academic performance and cause behavior challenges.

The effects that even low-level lead exposure have on the brain's learning systems have been identified in study after study, commonly known as lead's 'Neurobehavioral Signature' – the significant negative impact on cognitive ability, speech and language, hearing, visual-spatial skills, attention, impulse control, social behaviors, emotional regulation, and motor skills. Children with lead exposure cannot avoid the negative impact and once a child's health or cognition has been harmed by lead, the effects can be permanent and continue into adulthood. As a result, the economic burden of childhood lead exposure on NH's communities and school districts can be considerable. This educational program will provide an overview of key points in the recently released Center for Disease Control paper Educational Interventions for Children Affected by Lead, the Office for Special Education's Topical Issues Brief: Intervention IDEAs for Lead Exposure, and the Cincinnati Lead Study, conducted by Cincinnati Children's Hospital, the longest running longitudinal research project on children exposed to lead. Recent NH legislation requiring blood lead level (BLL) testing at age 1 year and again at age 2 years and working to improve childhood lead poisoning prevention will be reviewed. Learn why some NH communities are requiring the results of a child's two BLL tests documented on school entry health forms and taking other initiatives to prevent lead exposure among their youngest citizens.

Speaker: Gail Gettens, MS, ECMP

Health Promotion Advisor and Child Development Specialist, NH Division of Public Health Services
Healthy Homes and Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program.

Our yesterdays

Our thanks to Warren D. Huse, the Laconia Historical and Museum Society, and the Laconia Daily Sun for providing a glimpse into our community's past....

THEN ...

Although this photo of Bank Square, Laconia, was taken sometime prior to June 1892, the fountain, or watering trough (just to the right of the elm tree at left) was still in service 100 years ago, in 1919, as indicated by the story from The Laconia Democrat, reprinted below. In this 1890s view, the Eagle Hotel (formerly Belknap Savings Bank, from which the square took its name) is seen behind the construction which was probably part of the installation of the city's sewer system, which occurred in 1892. To the right of the hotel, old wooden buildings which preceded the Cook Block in 1898 can be glimpsed. Tracks of the horse-drawn Laconia and Lakeport Street Railway still run up Main Street, but were rerouted up Pleasant Street in 1892 to go in front of the new railroad passenger depot, then under construction. (Laconia Public Library)

... AND NOW

The Eagle Hotel was torn down in 1937 to make way for a new F.W. Woolworth store (later home to Benjamin's, the Sundial Shop and others). Tracks of the street railway were taken up in 1925 and the water fountain had been removed by the late 1930s. (Adam Drapcho/The Laconia Daily Sun)

Homecoming weekend is here! Sachem pride can be felt everywhere, everyday throughout Laconia; in the classrooms, on the ball fields and on the court. During Homecoming weekend that pride can also be heard in the cheering of spectators at the parade and at the games being played! Don't miss any of the Sachem teams playing this weekend!

The Homecoming parade leaves Laconia High School at 4:00pm on Friday, 9/20. The theme this year is Boston sports. Students from each grade level will be decorating their floats in front of LHS immediately after school. Swing by to catch an early glimpse of their creations or find the perfect viewing spot along the parade route to see them once they are completed!

Homecoming excitement lasts for two days! There are plenty of seats and standing space around Fitzgerald Field or in the Laconia High School gym to enjoy all the games scheduled for this weekend! Bring your Sachem pride to Fitzgerald Field Friday night at 7:00pm to cheer on the LHS football team playing Somersworth High School. Return on Saturday, 9/21 and get comfortable. Games begin at 10:00am with LHS Varsity Field Hockey playing Winnisquam Regional High School, followed by Boys' Varsity Soccer against Hopkinton at 12:00pm and Boys JV against Hopkinton at 2:00pm. LHS Girls' Soccer completes the day with Girls' Varsity playing Belmont at 4:00pm and JV playing Belmont at 6:00pm. LHS Girls' Varsity and JV Volleyball teams will be playing Kennett High School in the Laconia High School gym at 11:00am (JV) and 12:45pm (V). The LHS Golf and Cross Country teams do not have matches scheduled during Homecoming. All schedules for LHS sports teams are listed on the school website, lhslaconia.weebly.com.
